PROFILE

Versatile business professional with 14+ years across sales, client relations, operations and emerging technology. Combines hands on experience coordinating logistics and stakeholder communications with practical AI engineering capability gained through founding and running Syntyx Labs, a consultancy delivering automation and AI tools to SMBs across real estate, financial services, B2B and retail. Strong record of bridging commercial outcomes with operational detail: lead generation, pipeline management, vendor coordination, reporting and process improvement. Seeking a Business Officer or Project Officer role where this blend of operational discipline, client focus and technology fluency can drive measurable impact.

CORE STRENGTHS

- Business operations and coordination: manage scheduling, stakeholder reporting, vendor communication and operational performance in a fast moving logistics environment.
- Project delivery and process improvement: identify workflow inefficiencies, design solutions, and deliver platforms and systems end to end.
- Client relations and stakeholder management: build and maintain trust across phone, email and in person channels with consumer and B2B audiences.
- Sales and pipeline management: 14+ years of consultative selling, lead generation, CRM driven pipeline tracking and team leadership.
- AI and automation fluency: build production grade AI agents, lead generation engines and workflow automation using LLM APIs, Python and TypeScript.
- Reporting and analytics: produce clear stakeholder reports and translate data into actionable insights to optimise operations.
