PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Versatile professional combining 14+ years of sales and marketing experience with hands on AI engineering capabilities and social media expertise. I build production grade AI systems including conversational agents, automated lead generation engines, and intelligent workflow platforms while also driving client acquisition, pipeline management, and revenue growth. My unique strength lies in bridging the gap between technical innovation and commercial execution, delivering solutions that are both intelligent and results driven. Currently consulting through Syntyx Labs, I work across real estate, financial services, B2B, and retail sectors.
